3 LEAKS WE FOUND (live-verified)

LEAK 1: No 'nearest loaf' destination for paid clicks The buyer's question is 'where do I get it today'. Paid traffic does not land on a pin-code availability page, so the question goes unanswered at the moment of highest intent.
LEAK 2: Quick-commerce demand is not captured Shoppers search 'sourdough Blinkit / bread delivery near me'. Without owning those searches and routing to the right channel with tracking, the aggregator keeps the customer relationship.
LEAK 3: 1M+ sourdoughs is an unused ad asset A decade of trust compressed into one number - but it is not in the ad hook, the landing hero or the retargeting creative, where it would do the most work.

3 QUICK WINS (14-DAY ROADMAP) → FIX LEAKS + LOWER CPA

DAY 1-5: Build the pin-code availability page Enter pin code → nearest store + quick-commerce options + home-delivery ETA. Route all paid traffic there with the city/pin pre-set from the ad. Highest-leverage single change.
DAY 6-9: Put 1M+ sourdoughs everywhere Milestone counter, customer reviews and bake-day photos in the hook, hero and retargeting - plus a 20-second 'inside the bake' Reel at the top of the funnel.
DAY 10-14: Start the weekly repeat engine Retarget every product viewer and locator user with taste proof → bundle offer → subscription, and capture email/WhatsApp on the availability page.

EXPECTED ROI IN 14 DAYS

METRIC	BEFORE (LIVE)	AFTER 14 DAYS	INDUSTRY BENCHMARK
Ad-to-availability steps	Multiple taps to check stock	Pin-code availability page	Higher conversion on same traffic (CRO benchmark)
Brand search capture	Partial	Own 'sourdough near me' per city	Cheaper, higher-intent clicks (search benchmark)
Repeat purchase	No visible flow	3-touch repeat + subscription	Higher LTV in weekly-repeat bakery (industry)

Benchmarks are published industry ranges (e.g. e-commerce landing-page lift), labelled as such - no client results are invented. Your numbers are the live-verified values in the BEFORE column.
